Race report for 12 November 2017

Congratulations to the runners who joined in the race today. Series winners are Jonathan Camilleri (1.16.17, new series record) and Danielle O'Brien (1.31.12, new series record). Second in the series were Anthony Ralph (1.20.26) and Tanya Knauer (1.38.17) and third Steve Cunningham (1.24.17) and Angela Lyons (1.45.24). Andrew Potter came a close 4th in the men's race in 1.24.23.

With some heavy rain and slightly overcast conditions (and no market stalls on the footpath in Palm Cove), 20 of the 28 competitors in the series improved their times for the second race. Eric Atkins managed to shave 4 minutes 45 seconds of his previous time, while Rankin Salinas was 1 minute 30 seconds faster (debatable whether that was because he was not wearing a tutu again today).

For the race today, Danielle O'Brien set a new course record for the ladies race. And we had two juniors who had a go at the 10km. Well done, boys! The full set of results, including the times for the 5km and 3km, are given below.

All participants were provided with a flashing wrist band and a water bottle. Some lucky runners also picked up some elastic shoe laces. Bruce Hansen ended up with some socks and Catherine Coller with a buff (both items donated by Alena Scurrah).

Male winners for the 10km today (12 November 2017):

1st Bryan O'Mahony 37.58
2nd Jonathan Camilleri 38:28
3rd Anthony Ralph 39:54

Female winners for the 10km today (12 November 2017):

1st Danielle O'Brien 45:07 new course record
2nd Karen Ebdy 45:46
3rd Tanya Knauer 48:52
